“The support was greater than I could even imagine: they helped in legal and registration issues, personal requests, were even entertaining us! Most importantly, the Assistants clearly like what they do, and one can feel it. So, thanks a lot guys.”

student from Iran

„When you are in a new environment for the first time, it is really worth to have friends that can help you. Especially for those who are not good enough in German. They can guide them step by step about everything. I had a very good experience with these nice people: they helped me to open a bank account, fill out the forms for university registration or health insurance and also helped me to get my student residence permit. They also organize some get-together programs that are really amusing and provide a chance for PhD-students to know and stay in touch with other PhDs.“
