OF INTERNATIONAL AFFAIRS

Shaping global actors for a more secure world.

At Sciences Po's Paris School of International Affairs (PSIA), our goal is to train and shape global actors to understand and respond to the complexities of our world.

Since 2010, PSIA has continued Sciences Po's century-long tradition of cultivating the minds of leading government officials, diplomats, and key international stakeholders.

As we prepare for PSIA's 10th anniversary in 2020, we celebrate three main achievements :

- We are ranked in the top 3 universities globally for international studies ;
- We attract truly outstanding students from more than 110 countries ;
- We have become one of the largest schools of International Affairs in the world

At the forefront of global affairs education

With 70% of our 400 courses offered in English, students may take a full course of study in English. PSIA classes are taught by world-renowned professors and leading practitioners. The result is a versatile mix of current scholarship and innovative operational training founded in best practice.

PSIA students have frequent opportunity to challenge world leaders and engage with global policy through our extensive series of events, notably at our flagship Youth and Leaders Summit.

By the end of their two-years with us, PSIA graduates are well positioned to pursue high-profile careers. Our graduates work across the globe, in governments, NGOs and the private sector. They become political advisors, public servants, analysts, researchers, diplomats, consultants, entrepreneurs and innovators.

At PSIA, our students learn to understand, navigate and engage with a complex world. Together, we work towards making the world a better, more secure place.
