MASTER'S DEGREE

PROGRAMME GRANDE ÉCOLE (PGE):

WORK YOUR EMPLOYABILITY!

WE WORK ON EMPLOYABILITY

The master's degree Programme Grande École (PGE) is a 2-year program. Taught in English or in French, the program focuses on the practical teaching of international management. Its successful completion leads to an internationally recognized master's degree.

PROGRAM

1st year PGE (Master 1)

Consolidate and build on your knowledge of management while refining your managerial culture through business games and case studies.

2nd year PGE (Master 2)

Choose your specialization tailored to Strasbourg's economic setting and region: finance, international and European business, operational and strategic marketing, international wine management and tourism (co-op available).

Otherwise, you can, upon fulfillment of the requirements, opt for the French track: marketing, comptabilité contrôle-finace, management responsable des ressources humaines, supply chain management et achat international, entrepreneuriat, etc.

AFTER GRADUATION

■ 97% of graduates are employed within six months of graduation (2018–2021 average).

5 REASONS TO ENROLL IN PROGRAMME GRANDE ÉCOLE

1. Choose from 4 specializations in English (including 1 with the option of co-op) or 12 specializations in French (10 the option of co-op)
2. Combine knowledge with soft skills by developing your own economic, humanitarian, social or civic project
3. Gain experience and plan your career path with 7 months of work experience in an international context, 1 professional gap year and career guidance

MENGZE ZHANG

Student in the final year of Programme Grande École

I come from the Dalian region in eastern China. After a bachelor's and a master's degree, I wanted to integrate an international business training course. I chose Strasbourg for its international influence and location between two countries and cultures.
